

PRIVACY POLICY

Last updated: 19/12/2021

This Privacy Policy explains how and why Great Southern Copper plc (“Great Southern Copper” “we,” “us,” and “our”) collects and uses personal information, and what we do to ensure it is kept private and secure.

Great Southern Copper gathers and process’s your personal information in accordance with this privacy notice and in compliance with the relevant data protection regulations and laws. This notice provides you with the necessary information regarding your rights and our obligations, and explains how, why and when we process your personal data.

Who we are

Great Southern Copper is a copper-gold exploration company. The registered office of Great Southern Copper is at Salisbury House, London Wall, London EC2M 5PS and we are a company registered in England and Wales with Company Registration number 12497319.

For the purposes of data protection law, we will be a controller of your personal information and will ensure your rights are protected.

If you have any questions about our Privacy Policy, please email <mailto:enquiries@gscplc.com>.

What Information we collect

Personal data is collected in various ways including but not limited to:

- Writing (including emails, online forms)
- Via our website (including cookie technology - see our Cookie Policy for more details)
- Telephone calls
- Face to face meetings
- Third Parties (such as our share registrars, social media, online targeted content)

Great Southern Copper processes your personal information to meet our legal, statutory and contractual obligations and to keep you informed of events and news relating to [Your Company Name]. We will never collect any unnecessary personal data from you and do not process your information in any way, other than as specified in this notice.

The personal data we collect may include but is not limited to:

- Names
- Date of Birth
- Address
- Telephone number
- Email addresses
- Bank account details
- Shareholding details

How we use your personal data

Great Southern Copper takes your privacy very seriously. We only retain your data for as long as is necessary and for the purpose(s) specified in this notice. The purposes and reasons for processing your personal data are detailed but not limited to:

- We will occasionally send you company information where we have assessed that it is beneficial to you and in our interests. Such information will be non-intrusive and is processed on the grounds of legitimate business interests.
- To run our business in a professional and effective manner we use third parties which are listed in the Privacy Policy. It is essential for us to use third parties for the effective running of our business or for legal reasons.

Recipients of personal data

Great Southern Copper shares your data or may be processed by the following third-party service providers (but is not limited to):

- Brokers (as intermediaries between the company and investors they routinely collect information from internal or external sources)
- PR Companies (public relations companies may collect information on shareholders from internal or external sources and use this information to contact shareholders directly)
- Accounting Firms (for our accounts or for billing/invoice purposes) Share Registrars (who compile holder lists which are required for reasons such as AGM's and annual reports)
- Government based or supported regulatory bodies (upon request)
- Service Providers (e.g. Email Alerts service, emailing and analytics service providers etc)

Your rights

You have the right to access any personal information that Great Southern Copper processes about you and to request information about:

- What personal data we hold about you
- The purposes of the processing
- The categories of personal data concerned
- The recipients to whom the personal data has/will be disclosed
- How long we intend to store your personal data for
- If we did not collect the data directly from you, information about the source

If you believe that we hold any incomplete or inaccurate data about you, you have the right to ask us to correct and/or complete the information and we will strive to do so as quickly as possible; unless there is a valid reason for not doing so, at which point you will be notified.

You also have the right to request erasure of your personal data or to restrict processing in accordance with the data protection laws; as well as to object to any direct communication from us. Where applicable, you have the right to data portability of your information and the right to be informed about any automated decision-making we may use.

If we receive a request from you to exercise any of the above rights, we may ask you to verify your identity before acting on the request; this is to ensure that your data is protected and kept secure.

Sharing and disclosing your personal information

We do not share or disclose any of your personal information without your consent, other than for the purposes specified in this notice or where there is a legal requirement. All processors/third-parties acting on our behalf will comply fully with this privacy notice, the data protection laws and any other appropriate confidentiality and security measures.

All third-parties/data processors that have access to sensitive data will be required by Great Southern Copper to have a signed agreement in place to ensure that they are GDPR compliant and have all measures in place to safeguard personal data. When Great Southern Copper ceases any form of work with data processors/third-parties, Great Southern Copper has an agreement which has been signed by the data processors/third-parties for immediate erasure of sensitive data.

In instances where personal data is transferred to (and stored by) service providers which may be of concern to you, we suggest you contact the data processors/third-parties directly and ask to see their own privacy policy.

Safeguarding measures

Great Southern Copper takes your privacy seriously and takes every reasonable measure and precaution to protect and secure your personal data. We work hard to protect you and your information from unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure or destruction and have several layers of security measures in place, including: – SSL, encryption, restricted access, IT authentication, firewalls and anti-virus/malware software.

Transfers outside the EEA

Personal data in the European Union is protected by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) but some other countries may not necessarily have the same high standard of protection for your personal data. Great Southern Copper will only transfer your Personal Data outside the EEA if we have to comply with a legal duty or obligation.

If we do transfer your Personal Data outside the EEA, we will take measures to ensure it is protected to the same standards as it would be within the EEA.

How long we keep your data

Great Southern Copper only ever retains personal information for as long as is necessary and we have strict review and retention policies in place to meet these obligations.

Children's personal information

Great Southern Copper does not knowingly solicit or collect personal data from children. If we discover that we have accidentally collected personal data from a child (for which the age of consent varies by country), we will remove that child's personal data from our records as soon as is reasonably practicable.

Changes to this privacy policy

From time to time, Great Southern Copper may update this policy. Changes to this policy will be made available on our website: <https://gscplc.com>. We recommend that you check this policy regularly so that you are aware of any changes.

Contacting us

If you have any questions or concerns or would like more detail about how we process your Personal Data, you can contact us at <mailto:enquiries@gscplc.com> or post at Salisbury House, London Wall, London EC2M 5PS.